

Employment Practices Liability

COVERAGE HIGHLIGHTS

Employment-related claims impact organizations of every size, in every industry.

Why you need protection

Employers, big and small, are subject to federal, state and local laws regarding employment practices. Exposures leading to employment practice claims have increased over the years. This can be attributed to economic conditions, social inflation and the ever-evolving legal environment.

Coverage highlights

An Employment Practices Liability (EPL) policy helps protect company assets from employee lawsuits alleging discrimination, harassment or wrongful termination and other employment-related claims. Specifically designed to meet the needs of today's employers, Travelers EPL offering combines broad coverage features, expert claims handling and state of the art employment practices risk management services.

Claim scenarios

Retaliation

Four former employees claimed their employer retaliated against them for reporting and protesting discriminatory treatment. One person claimed their disability was the subject of inappropriate jokes and conversations. The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) found the employees' charges credible and filed a civil complaint against the insured on their behalf. It cost $285,000 to settle the case, which was in addition to the more than $50,000 in defense costs.

Wrongful termination and defamation

A former nurse at a hospital claimed that after complaining that they were not compensated for hours worked, they were retaliated against, suspended and eventually terminated. The nurse sued the hospital and the VP of Human Resources for wrongful termination, invasion of privacy and defamation. In addition to over $1 million in defense expenses, it cost $750,000 to resolve the claim.
