

Employee Injury Trends in CONSTRUCTION

Construction workers compensation claims were the most expensive – more than double the all-industries average.

47% of all construction injuries were to first-year employees.

First-year injuries drove more than half (51%) of all construction workers compensation costs.

The most severe injuries were amputations, cardiovascular injuries, electric shocks, multiple traumas and dislocations.

Some of the most expensive causes of construction injuries included burns and scalding; slips, trips and falls; being struck by objects; and motor vehicle accidents.

This industry also led with the most missed workdays on average per injury:

Construction: 99

Transportation: 77

Wholesale: 69

Retail: 67

Manufacturing: 66

All-industries average: 71

