

As Chief Operating Officer of Arevon Energy, Justin and his team are responsible for all development, construction & operations activities for the nation's 2nd largest solar portfolio. Justin is one of Arevon's founders and formerly held roles at Capital Dynamics, EDP Renewables and Horizon Wind Energy. He has 20+ years of energy and operations experience in procurement, asset management, performance and engineering management, development, and construction. Prior to entering the renewable energy industry, Justin served as an officer in the US Air Force for 7 years in flight test engineering and project management roles. Justin is a graduate of the US Air Force Academy and Babson College.