

PAM SHERMAN

ACTOR, WRITER
LEADERSHIP CONSULTANT AND AUTHOR

Pam Sherman is an actor, writer, leadership consultant and recovering lawyer who was profiled in People Magazine about her transition from lawyer to actor. Today, she speaks, facilitates and coaches leaders all over the world about how to ignite their audiences with who they are and their stories, and to find their EDGE: Explore, Dream, Grow, & Excite®. She works with Fortune 50 companies, law firms, advertising agencies, and is a highly rated global resource for the leadership organizations EO, Vistage, and YPO.

Her nationally syndicated column, The Suburban Outlaw, was published on the USA Today Network for 15 years. Sherman also stars in the one-woman show Erma Bombeck: At Wit's End, breaking box-office records around the United States. She's a graduate of American University and the Cardozo School of Law and lives in Rochester, New York with her family, human and barky. Her new book Play You, the Role of a Lifetime will be released on 4/21/26. www.thepamsherman.com